Around and around the ring went the high steppers, drawing corts that were perfect in their appointments, and the crowd, rapidly filling the boxes and seats, applauded with an eclat that was signi-ficant of the excellence of the horses that were shown.

After some deliberation the award of the blue ribbon was made to Paul, the bay gelding entered by Dr. W. E. Woodend, and who led the winning unicorn team last night. The red went to a local horse, Mr. John Kerr Branch's Rosedale, a chestnut gelding, driven in this class by Mr. Jack Donnelly, one of the best whips in the country. Dr. Woodend's Snapshot won the third, and Charles F. Corning's Dandellon the fourth.

A splendid lot of saddlers responded to the call of the bugler of the Marine Band for class 27, saddle horses, to be judged by their conformation, quality and paces. The gaits required to be shown were walk, trot and canter. Those who appeared before the judges represented the best in the country, and among them were winners at all the shows in Virginia, in the North and at Madison Square Garden.

There were a number of other entries in the class worthy of mention, including Mr. Henry M. Sackett's Cock Robin, ridden very ably by his owner, and Dr. L. S. Rucketts' Lady Olga, owner up. Mr. Sackett is president of the Lynchburg Horse Show Association, and Mr. Rucketts is secretary of the Orange Horse Show. Both of them have excellent horses and their riding is above all reproach.

Class 10, for ladies' pair, was one of the best that has been shown, and the entries were worthy to rank with any that can be entered in any ring. The applause that rippled around the ring end swelled to a roar showed the appreciation of a Richmond audience for good horseflesh. The gowns of those who drove the teams were magnificent. Mrs. Woodend had on a yellow gown that made her beauty even more prominent than it has been heretofore, and a hat decorated with violets, whose blue blended beautifully with the red of her checks.

Miss Deschebere drove the winning team—Mrs. Grosvenor's Conqueror and Crusader. The second honor went to Mrs. John Gerken, who drove Newsboy and Shop Girl. Mrs. Woodend captured the third with Paul and Virginia, and the fourth went to Mrs. Gerken's Bran-den and Belmsr, driven by Miss Taylor, of Wichester.

Class 37, the Corinthian class, was without doubt the greatest competition of the entire show, the conditions being the hardest for the horses and the field one of the most famous ever gathered in a show ring anywhere. There was a field of twenty-eight, including prize winners it this and all the other great shows of America, ridden by the best equestrians on the continent over six jumps in a small show ring. The first jump was a hedge-topped fence, four feet six inches; the second a four-foot, hedge-topped fence, four feet six inches; the second a four-foot, hedge-topped fence, four feet six inches; the second a four-foot, hedge-topped fence, four feet six inches, and the round of these three jumps was made twice by each competitor. ATTRACTIVE NUMBERS

Horse Show To-Night.

Two attractive numbers have been add ed to the Horse Show programme for this evening in addition to the excellent list of classes already scheduled. Of these extraordinary features for this evening is an exhibition of expert driving of fours by Mr. John H. Donnelly, one of is an exhibition of expert driving of fours by Mr. John H. Donnelly, one of the greatest whips in America, who is manager for Mr. Hollister and Mrs. Gresvenor at this show. With Fascination and Elevation, Mr. Hollister's peerless pair, in the lead, and Mrs. Grosvenor's Conqueror and Crusader at the wheel, and Mr. Donnelly handling the reins, the patrons of the show will witness an exhibition of fancy and expert driving that will be thrilling to behold. He has driven his teams at New York, Chicago, and all the great shows of the country, and has always carried off a liberal share of the ribbons at all.

With Fascination and Elevation, Mr. Donnelly has won the honors at Saratoga. Long Branch, Newport, and all the great northern Iashionable centers.

The other special feature for to-night will be a riding tandem, a novelty that promises to be one of the most attractive classes at the entire show, certainly in the harness classes.

The grand finale of the entire show will be a superb high jump competition, with Hirle, Amaret and Hornpipe, and possibly Grey Rock, as competitors. With the single of exception of Heatherbloom, there are no such brilliant performers in the show ring.

STREET-CAR SERVICE

Show than Ever Before.

Show than Ever Before.

No feature of the Horse Show ariangements has been so universally commended as the aplend distrect ear service accorded the public during the entire week. On Main and Broad Streets double car service has been put on all lines and on the Clay-Street lines as well, affording a two-minute schedule in the evening and handling the immense travel proaptly and with entire absence of accident of any kind. After the show the service is especially to be commended.

A line of cars almost half a infle long is lined up awaiting the moment when the great amphitheatre pours out it it housands, all eager to get back to their homes. With clock-like precision the cars successively fill and pull out, carrying the homeward bound crowd quickly and safely. In half an hour after the performance closes the crowd is all well on its way home.

salely. In an an another the performance closes the crowd is all well on its way home.

The congestion of vehicles in the way of the ears with the consequent danger to occupants of both which was complained of last year has been obviated and the great throngs have been handled without accident of any sort. Many persons haye expressed their commendation of the service.

Certainly it could hardly have been improved upon, for the company has brough into requisition almost its entire roll in stock in such a way as to avoid serious derangement of the regular schedules in other parts of the city.

Two Sli ht Accidents.

Two Sli ht Accidents.

During the exhibition of teams in the tandem class last night the two teams of Dr. W. E. Woodend, one driven by Charles Fownes and the other by Sdn.y Manley, collided head-on in the east side of the ring, the leaders after butting heads, turning to light and left and avoided further complications with the ald of the grooms and drivers who quickly righted the entangled tandems. It was an exciting moment for the crowd as the leaders of the two plunged for a moment in bowilderment. The responsibility for the clash is not clair. One team had Jist turned when it ran full into the other.

During the riding in the Corintain class. Hawatha, the handsome son of Bohemian, ridden by Mr. Jack Henderson, his owner, knocked down the third fence and becoming entangled, then fell, throwing his rider forward beyond the prostrate fence. Fortunately, Mr. Henderson, by his quickness and skill, landed without higury, and was soon on his feet, receiving congratulations on his skill and good fortune combined, which conwithout injury, and was soon has skill and good fortune combined, which enabled him to fare so well. This was the only accident of the evening, but only superb horsemanship avoided others, for several of the jumpers after approaching the jumps at terrific speed, finally stopped short and refused, almost tossing the riders over the fences.

MAGEDONIAN LEADER

(By Associated Press.)

SALONICA, EUROPEAN TURKEY,
October 16.—The report of the death of Boris Sarafoff, the famous Macedonian leader, is confirmed.

A dispatch from Salonica yesterday
stated that Sarafoff was killed October 12th in a skirmish at Prava, near Flotina. Sarafoff was the life and soul of the insurgent operations in Macedonia.
When he was a boy of fourteen he saw his father and grandfather tortured and dragged in chains to a dungeon. He has been described as "The most romantic figure in the Balkaus." He was stated to be the real instigator of the abduction of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, in September, 1901, in order to procure through her ransom the funds with which to enable the Macedonian revolutionary committee to organize the insurrection.

In 1895, Sarafoff, after serving as an officer in the Bulgarian army, formed a band of desperadoes to raid Turkish territory. Since then he headed nearly four hundred daring raids into Turkey. Once he captured the Turkish town of Melnik with forty men. Eputting the garrison to flight.
